Miami Worldcenter

Occupying 27 acres in the heart of downtown Miami, Miami Worldcenter is one of the largest private real estate developments underway in the United States. The ten-block project, now delivering in phases, will include world-class retail, hospitality, commercial and residential uses in the center of Miami's urban core. With its convenient location adjacent to Virgin's newly-opened MiamiCentral high-speed rail station, together with access to TriRail, the Metromover and the Metrorail, Miami Worldcenter is the most-connected transit-oriented development in South Florida. All told, the project is expected to account for $4 billion in new investment in downtown Miami.

Wynwood Walls

Wynwood Walls was established in 2009 by the legendary Tony Goldman of Goldman Properties, as an outdoor museum of international street art. Wynwood Walls has become a phenomenon, spurring the creation of murals throughout the Wynwood district. It is now one of the best venues in the world to see the work of leading street artists. A selection of both national and international artists have created artwork for the Wynwood Walls. Encompassing more than 50 dazzling, cutting-edge murals created by respected street artists from Asia, Europe, Latin America and the United States, the Wynwood Walls attracts people from all over the world each year.

Miami Design District

The 18-square block Miami Design District is known for both exemplary culture and commerce. Over the past 15 years, the historic low-rise warehouses and commercial buildings have given way to more than 120 contemporary and luxury flagship stores, furniture showrooms, dozens of restaurants, two contemporary art museums and an ambitious program of public art and design. During the fall and winter months, Grammy-award winner Emilio Estefan produces a free concert series, and every December, the neighborhood is packed with exhibitions, parties and installations related to Art Basel Miami Beach and Design Miami.
